Why Aggressive Defensive Solutions?

Simply stated, we have answers to real world problems. Our cadre of instructors have law enforcement and military security backgrounds. They understand what works as well as what does not and why. Our professionals work with Aggressive Defensive Solutions because they believe in what we do.

Aggressive Defensive Solutions is a solutions based training and consulting organization. We have brought together instructors and operators with backgrounds from each of the various disciplines we teach.

AggDefSol is uniquely positioned to create custom coursework for our customers. We recognize the dynamic nature of today's threats and understand that "one size fits all" training is not always your best value for either your limited budget or training time. If you have a unique requirement and our current course work does not appear to fill your needs perfectly, just call us and see what AggDefSol can do for you and your organization. We have modified our courses and provided our customers with situational based training from law enforcement scenarios to combat operations such as convoy operations and urban operations training. In the classroom or on the range AggDefSol provides the training that keeps the law enforcement community excited and engaged.
